Consent to Receive Treatment

I authorize outpatient psychological services to be provided to myself and/or my dependent(s) by Connor and Associates and the service provider. I agree to engage the service provider for services that may include any of the following: Individual, Group, Family or Child Therapy, Evaluation/Testing and Consultation. I agree to comply with all agency policies and fees as outlined below. It is understood that consent for services can be withdrawn at any time with the provision of such in writing to the service provider. This consent will remain in effect until such time as the client revokes it, treatment is completed or transfer of care is made.

Practice Policies

Fees/Insurance Policy

- All fees must be paid at time of service including co-pays, deductibles, evaluation fees, out of pocket fees, etc.
- Phone calls, letters, e-mails, reports and consultations on behalf of the client (outside of therapy sessions) will be billed in 15-minute intervals at a rate of $135.00 per hour. These fees are not billable to insurance and must be paid by the client on an out of pocket basis.
- A fee of $25.00 per document will be charged for completion of paperwork for disability insurance, family medical leave, etc.
- A returned check fee of $35.00 plus the amount of the original check will be charged for checks returned due to insufficient funds.
- Failure to resolve an outstanding balance in a timely manner may result in suspension of service until such time debt is paid.
- If an account should become delinquent, the responsible party is aware that the account information will be turned over to collections and he/she will be responsible for the agency's collections fees as well as the outstanding balance.
- The client, parent or guardian is responsible for notifying staff of a change of insurance as soon as possible or will otherwise be responsible for fees due to any lapse in coverage

Appointments and Cancellation Policy

- Appointments are 45 minutes in length
- 24-hour advance notification is required for cancelling an appointment.
- There is a $50.00 charge to the client for the first two no-shows/late cancellations. Thereafter, a fee of $85.00 will be charged for any additional no-shows or late cancellations.
- Unless there is a 24-hour notice, a missed appointment fee will be charged regardless of the reason for the missed appointment. We understand that situations sometimes arise that the client cannot predict or control; however, missed appointments result in lost time and income to the practice, regardless of the reason for the occurrence. Rare or special exceptions to this policy may occur at the sole discretion of the therapist.
- No show and/or late cancellation fees are due at or before the next scheduled date of service
- Excessive no shows or late cancellations may result in suspension or termination of service.
- In an effort to avoid missed appointments and late cancellations, we are able to send you an appointment reminder by email two days prior to your appointment. The appointment reminder will include the date and time of your appointment, as well as your provider's name. The email will not be encrypted. Health care information sent by regular email could be lost, delayed, intercepted, delivered to the wrong email address, or arrive incomplete or corrupted. If you understand these risks and would like to receive an appointment reminder by email, you are confirming you accept responsibility for these risks by providing your email below. If you choose to provide your email, you are agreeing that you will not hold the provider or the office staff responsible for any event that occurs after the message is sent. If you would like to have an appointment reminder, please clearly write your email address below.

 Fees are subject to change without prior notice.*

Confidentiality Policy

- When seeking psychological services, you have the right to expect that issues discussed during the course of your treatment will be kept confidential; however, there are exceptions to confidentiality by state law and rules of our profession as follows:
 - Receipt of a subpoena or court order for records or testimony
 - Threat of actual or potential harm to the client or another
 - Alleged or potential for abuse to or by the client, guardian or another party
 - Group supervision in some cases is required (i.e., vacation coverage)

- Insurance companies may require periodic treatment reviews and/or auditing of charts in which limited client information may be shared to insure reimbursement for treatment.
 - Account information may be submitted to collections if an account becomes delinquent
- (Consent and Policies – Page 3)

Clinical Emergencies Policy

- Emergency consultations are reserved for true clinical emergencies in which someone is in danger and/or at risk for harm. If you have a clinical emergency, you may contact your therapist via the office voicemail process, which will instruct you on how to reach him or her. If your therapist is not available to respond, you are advised to go to the nearest hospital emergency room or contact the local crisis hotline.

Child Supervision Policy

- Connor & Associates cannot accept responsibility for unattended children. Please make arrangements for proper supervision and be considerate of other clients in the waiting room.

Termination from Treatment Policy

- As a client, you have the right to terminate treatment at any time unless otherwise ordered by the Court. The providers of Connor & Associates also reserve the right to terminate clients from our practice for any reason we deem to be appropriate and/or necessary including:
 - Verbal abuse to the support staff, owners, contractors or other clients. This includes but is not limited to threatening, name-calling and verbal aggression
 - Physical assault or threat to assault support personnel, partners, contractors, other clients or property
 - Refusal to follow essential treatment recommendations that could result in harm to yourself or others
 - Repeated no shows and/or late cancellations
 - Other individual reasons

I consent for my child to receive treatment/services from Connor and Associates and his/her treatment provider. I further have read each practice policy and agree to adhere to these policies, without exception.

This notice describes how health information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully.

OUR LEGAL DUTY

We are required by applicable federal and state law to maintain the privacy of your health information. We are also required to give you this Notice about our privacy practices, our legal duties and your rights concerning your health information. This Notice takes effect April 14, 2003 and will remain in effect until we replace it.

We reserve the right to change our privacy practices and the terms of this Notice at any time, provided such changes are permitted by applicable law. We reserve the right to make the changes in our privacy practices and the new terms of our Notice effective for all health information that we maintain, including health information we created or received before we made the changes. Before we make a significant change in our privacy practices, we will change this Notice and make the new Notice available upon request.

You may request a copy of our Notice at any time. For more information about our privacy practices or for additional copies of this Notice, please contact us.

USES AND DISCLOSURES OF HEALTH INFORMATION

We use and disclose health information about you for treatment, payment and healthcare operations. For example:

Treatment: We may use or disclose your health information to a physician or other healthcare provider providing treatment to you with your consent.

Payment: We may use and disclose your health information to obtain payment for services provided to you per your consent.

Healthcare Operations: We may use and disclose your general health information (excluding personally identifying information) in connection with our healthcare operations. Healthcare operations include quality assessment and improvement activities, reviewing the competence or qualifications of healthcare professionals, and evaluating practitioner and provider performance. We may use or disclose your general health information (excluding personally identifying information) in order for us to review our services and to evaluate our staff's performance. We may also use or disclose your health information to obtain a medical consultation regarding your care or treatment.

Your Authorization: In addition to our use of your health information for treatment, payment or healthcare operations, you may give us written authorization to use your health information or to disclose it to anyone for any purpose. If you give us an authorization, you may revoke it in writing at any time. Your revocation will not affect any use or disclosures permitted by your authorization while it was in effect. Unless you give us a written authorization, we cannot use or disclose your health information for any reason except those described in this Notice.

Abuse or Neglect: We may disclose your health information to appropriate authorities if we reasonably believe that you or someone in your home is a possible victim (or perpetrator) of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We may disclose health information to appropriate authorities if we reasonably believe that you are a serious danger to yourself or others.

To Your Family and Friends: We must disclose your health information to you, as described in the Patient Rights section of this Notice. If you authorize release of information, we may disclose your health information to a family member, friend or other person to the extent necessary to help with your healthcare or with payment for your healthcare.

Persons Involved in Care: We may use or disclose health information to notify or assist in notification of a family member, your personal representative or another person responsible for your care, of your location, your general condition, or death. If you are present, then prior to use or disclosure of your health information, we will provide you with an opportunity to object to such uses or disclosures. In the event of your incapacity or emergency circumstances, we will disclose health information based on a determination using our professional judgment disclosing only health information that is directly relevant to the person's involvement in your healthcare.

Required by Law: We may use or disclose your health information when we are required to do so by law, such as in legal response to valid judicial, administrative subpoenas or court orders.

National Security: We may disclose to military authorities the health information of Armed Forces personnel under certain circumstances. We may disclose to authorized, federal officials health information required for lawful intelligence, counterintelligence, and other national security activities. We may disclose to correctional institution or law enforcement officials having lawful custody of protected health information of an inmate or patient under certain circumstances.

Appointment Reminders: We may provide you with appointment reminders (such as voicemail messages, postcards, or letters) unless you make a specific request to the contrary. (See alternative communication section – page 3).

PATIENT RIGHTS

Access: You have the right to view or obtain a copy of your health information, with limited exceptions. You must make a request in writing to obtain access to your health information. You may request that we provide copies in a format other than photocopies. We will use the format requested unless it is not practical for us to do so. We will respond to your request for access within 30 days of receiving the request. We reserve the right to charge you a reasonable cost-based fee for expenses such as photocopying and staff time after the first request for copies. We will charge $0.10 a page, $15.00 per hour for staff time and postage if you want the copies mailed to you. If you prefer, we will prepare a summary or an explanation of your health information for a fee. If we deny your request to review or obtain a copy of your health information, you may submit a written request for a review of that decision. The person conducting the review will not be the person who denied your request. In some circumstances, our denial of a request by you to inspect and/or receive copies of your information is not subject to review.

Disclosure Accounting: You have the right to receive a record of disclosures made by us of your health information when you submit a written request. This record will not include: disclosures made for treatment, payment or health care operations; disclosures made directly to you; disclosures authorized by you pursuant to a signed authorization; or disclosures made for law enforcement purposes. You may request one such record at no charge every twelve (12) months. The record request must state the time period desired and may not exceed six (6) years prior to the date of the request and may not include any dates prior to April 14, 2003. The first disclosure record request in a 12-month period is free; additional requests will be provided for a fee. We will inform you of the fees before you incur any costs.

Restriction: You have the right to request that we place additional restrictions on our use and disclosure of your health information. We are not required to agree to these additional restrictions, but if we do, we will abide by our agreement (except when required by law or in an emergency).

Alternative Communication: You have the right to request that we communicate with you about your health information by alternative means or to alternative locations. You must make your request in writing. Your request must specify the alternative means or location and provide satisfactory explanation how payments will be handled under the alternative means or location you request. We will make reasonable efforts to accommodate your request.

Amendment: You have the right to request that we correct your records if you believe information in your record is incorrect or that important information is missing, by submitting a written request that provides your reason for requesting the amendment. We have the right to deny your request to amend a record if the information was not created by us; if it is not part of the health information maintained by us; if it is not part of the information which you would be permitted to inspect and copy; or if in our opinion that record is accurate.

Questions and Complaints:

If you are concerned that we may have violated your privacy rights, or you disagree with a decision we made about access to your health information, you may contact (in writing) our Privacy Officer (listed below). You may also send a written complaint to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Office of Civil Rights. We will provide you the address. Under no circumstances will you be penalized or retaliated against for filing a complaint.
